

AD PLACEMENT

MID/SENIOR INTERIOR DESIGNER

Denton Corker Marshall is looking for a motivated Mid/Senior Interior Designer, preferably with architectural background, to join the Melbourne studio.

The studio undertakes high-end, boutique to large scale projects in sectors including public, higher education, commercial, hotel, and multi-residential both locally and internationally.

We are looking for a passionate designer with amazing front end skills and a confident communicator as you will be working closely with architects, clients and suppliers.

You will ideally have a minimum of 5 years' industry experience, and advanced REVIT and documentation experience and will be working with our Associate Director of Interior Design with 20 years' experience.

This is an opportunity for a talented Designer to work on exciting projects with a great team of innovative professionals and who is eager to continue learning and developing.

To be successful in this role you will need:

- A Bachelor Degree in Interior Architecture or/and in Architecture.
- Minimum of 5 years' experience in commercial interior design practice.
- Strong knowledge and experience in Workspace.
- Advanced Revit and strong presentation and rendering skills.
- Solution focused – demonstrated proactive and collaborative approach to projects, clients and teams.
- Demonstrated experience in developing and delivering designs from briefing to project handover.
- Excellent communication skills and ability to proactively communicate with clients, consultants and internal team members.
- Experience and involvement in client relationship management.
- Capacity to work as part of a team with the ability to work autonomously as required.
- Proven ability to manage more than one project at a time.

Applications will be kept strictly confidential.

Applicants should email their CV, portfolio and any letters of recommendation in PDF format (less than 10MB) to:
