Lymesmith: Cross Disciplinary Art/Architecture Practice

www.lymesmith.com.au

Location: ANCA Studios, Mitchell, ACT

Purpose:

Lymesmith is an architectural colour and art studio, collaborating with architects, designers and private clients to realise the colour potential within their projects. From innovative material palettes, to painted installations for large-scale public infrastructure, Lymesmith's work can be enjoyed in parks, universities, restaurants, homes, city laneways, on public transport, at the pool and even in the public toilets at Australia's most iconic beach.

The Role:

Joining Lymesmith you will work with the principal Sonia van de Haar and contribute to all project stages including Concept Design, DA submissions and Documentation.

Lymesmith welcomes applications from emerging interior designers/architects who can demonstrate the following competencies:

- Tertiary qualification in architecture/interior or industrial design/cross disciplinary art & design
- At least 1 year of design experience in a relevant industry business/office
- Proficiency in Adobe software – Indesign and Photoshop, Sketchup or Vectorworks 3D essential; Illustrator/Lightroom desirable
- A working knowledge of colour theory and excellent colour vision
- Commitment to work to deadlines
- A willingness to take direction and be flexible
- Good communication and critical thinking skills
- Curiosity and a desire to learn.

Your key responsibilities in the role includes:

- Assist with concept design presentations
- Assist in the preparation of DA, CC and Tender documentation
- Prepare 3D visualisations of design concepts
- Assist with site analysis and background research
- Sourcing product samples, materials research
- Attention to detail when creating technical drawings
- A commitment to developing both hard and soft skills, eg technical and interpersonal.

Why work with Lymesmith:

Because you love colour, and you feel excited by the potential of working with colour at an architectural scale. Your own interests are varied and across disciplines. You couldn't decide if you should go to art school or study architecture.

This position offers the opportunity to work on public, private and commercial projects, at a variety of scales, with an award winning and unique cross-disciplinary design practice.

Lymesmith's mission is to connect people and place, via the integration of site-specific artworks and colour design across all aspects of the built environment. Our vision is to inspire clients through creative and thoughtful colour design that enriches the spaces they build and inhabit. Lymesmith values creativity, problem solving and collaboration, sincerity and sensitivity, playfulness and generosity.

Hourly rate range: $20 - $35 based on experience and skills.

Initially 10-20 Hours per week, with the opportunity to expand the role.

There is potential for a permanent part time role or for work on a contract basis, please indicate your preference and outline any needs for flexibility in working hours you may require.

Please send your application letter (Max 2x A4 pages) plus your CV, and a folio of your work (max 5MB) to Barbara McConchie: barb@lymesmith.com.au.

You are welcome to email Barb with questions prior to submitting an application.

Closing Date: 30 May 2021
