

Interior Designer Graduate

Practice Profile

Since 2009, Windust Architects x Interiors have been delivering enduring and sustainable environments and maintaining valued client relationships. We draw upon our Australian x Japanese influences and stand out from others thanks to our spirit of adventure and commitment to beauty and joy.

We have an exciting pipeline of both residential and small commercial projects coming up, and we are looking to grow our team.

And as a valued team member, you will benefit from a supportive learning workplace culture, with the directors invested in a positive learning space. We encourage individual development and offer opportunities for advancement to leadership roles.

Job Description

We wish to speak to graduate interior designers. You may be out of uni only a couple of years, but you enjoy “making things happen” and implementing concepts to detail.

You love composing finishes, fixtures and equipment, and documenting the results. This is a “hands-on” role, and your experience in Archicad/ AutoCAD is preferred.

Great communication and organisational skills are a must. So your ability to manage your own time, and work collaboratively with others, will be considered in high regard.
