

Project Architect – Luxury Residential

The Opportunity

A rewarding opportunity has emerged to contribute your passion for timeless and elegant residential architecture in a project leading and team mentoring role. Initially starting out as a 12-month fixed-term contract position, this role requires an experienced Australian registered Architect to manage the design development, documentation and contract administration of several high-end single-dwelling residential projects, working as a valued member of our talented team. This opportunity will provide you the autonomy and exposure to lead and deliver key projects in a supportive and inclusive team environment.

About You

You are a skilled Australian Registered Project Architect who has permanent working rights to live and work in Australia, with a minimum of 8 year's practical experience leading high-end residential projects. You have a good design-eye, enjoy nutting out beautiful architectural details, and have demonstrable experience managing the construction stage of architecturally designed homes, consulting with large-scale commercial builders. You value collaboration and enjoy mentoring your peers, sharing knowledge, and acting as a natural team-leader in the work environment. You are humble, respectful of your workmates, and pride yourself on your dedicated work-ethic. You also have a good working knowledge of AutoCAD and SketchUp and can immediately begin documenting and modelling using these software systems.

About Us

We are a boutique architectural studio based in Collingwood, Melbourne. Nestled in our recently refurbished design studio, our agile and high-performing team work diligently to provide our beloved Clients full-scope architectural design and delivery services. We pride ourselves on developing professional working relationships with all project stakeholders, and this level of rapport and humanistic approach is what has inspired our success as a studio. Our design aesthetic can be described as a fuse of contemporary elegance with tasteful luxury.

The Offer

An attractive salary package is on offer for the successful candidate. This role is full-time for a minimum 12-month fixed-term period. Working from home options can be arranged, however as we work as a close team, the majority of this position will be based in our lovely Collingwood studio.

If this role sounds like you and matches your professional experience to date, we invite you to apply now by submitting your CV and Folio (max 5MG) in PDF format. We look forward to welcoming you to the team!

Applicants are welcome to apply here: studio@emmatulloch.com.au

Please note that only relevant candidates for this position will be contacted.