Thank you for your interest in Architect Victoria, the Official Journal of the Australian Institute of Architects Victorian Chapter. We are pleased to announce that in 2018, the Institute began self-publishing Architect Victoria and undertaking all associated advertising and marketing services.

Architect Victoria is issued quarterly addressing a particular theme of relevance to the industry. The journal is sent to around 3000 subscribers comprising architects, individuals, academic and cultural institutions. Each print edition is also available in digital format on the Victorian Chapter website and sharable via social media.

Direct mail distribution will reach not only the architecture professions of the Institute's membership, but also key decision makers in our network of major architecture, design and related industry organisations.

We hope that you will find considerable benefit in aligning your business with Architect Victoria and the Victorian membership. We look forward to a long and prosperous partnership.
