Senior Architect Position: O'Connor and Houle Architecture

O'Connor and Houle Architecture is a small architecture, interiors and landscape studio located in inner city Melbourne, with a reputation for delivering high-end quality residential projects across city, rural and coastal settings.

Since being established in 1996, our design-focussed practice has won numerous awards and other accolades and is regarded as one of Australia's leading long-standing small design practices, consistently featured in major architectural publications in Australia and abroad.

Our work celebrates life and the richness of our culture, history and environment. Our architecture navigates historical, social, environmental, economic and political layers, seeking to extract a simple, clear idea, which encapsulates the essence and individuality of a project. We aim to produce spaces that are experienced as well as seen, and environments that ultimately promote a sense of wellbeing and a sense of belonging. This results in rich, sensory, multi-layered and sustainable environments that communicate simply, clearly and joyfully.

The studio is currently seeking a highly motivated, design-focussed, detail-minded and technically skilled Senior Architect to join our team, with demonstrated experience across all stages of residential projects, from Sketch Design to Documentation and Contract Administration.
